Karan Kapoor and Rhea Prakash meet for the first time on a flight from Delhi to New York. They just can't stand each other: Rhea is disgusted by Karan. She believes that he is not capable of sincere feelings, does not value friendship, does not think that he does what he says. Basically, she hates him. Karan doesn't see Rhea as worthy either. But despite this, they end up on the same plane. They are forced to be alone to pass the time, but because of this, a lot of misunderstandings arise. Cast: Saif Ali Khan, Indira Varma and others. The film will not appeal only to those who believe that men are not capable of friendship, and women - of devotion.
